

THIS WEEK IN HISTORY ...

NOVEMBER 27, 1910 — Calling all aboard, New York City's Pennsylvania Station opens for railroad traffic in exchange of the horse-drawn carriages of the heyday.