This Week in History ...

April 15, 1865 — After being shot at Ford’s Theatre by John Wilkes Booth, President Abraham Lincoln dies.

April 18, 1934 — A new trend begins in Fort Worth, Texas as the first laundromat opens.

April 19, 1995 — The bombing of the Alfred P. Murrah building in Oklahoma City, Okla., kills 168 people, marking one of the worst terrorist attacks in American history.