Playoff Fever

The ice hockey team, track and field, and swimming and diving all have their playoffs this weekend.

Athletes of the Week

Jerry Johnson, a sophomore member of the men’s basketball team, has been named The Rider News Male Athlete of the Week. Johnson scored 21 points in Monday’s win against Fairfield. They have won five of their last six.

Leanne Moore, a sophomore member of the women's basketball team, has been named The Rider News Female Athlete of the Week. Moore scored 18 points and 11 rebounds in the Broncs victory Wednesday night.

their opponents a total of 96-29, and have four players in the top twenty in scoring within the conference.

Last weekend against UMBC, the Broncos needed one more win to clinch first place in the conference and a bye in the upcoming playoffs. They easily continued their winning ways, notching a 7-3 victory. Sophomore Nick D’Aurizio led Rider with two goals and two assists. Chipping in with the rest of the scoring were Voit, Armagan, Vincent Saccente and Jeff Schnaars.

Saccente is a freshman who has made an immediate impact with his ability to find the net. Despite being a rookie, he knows the importance of composite heading into the playoffs. “We feel good and very confident,” Saccente said.

“At the same time though, we are not overconfident,”

We’re just trying to remain focused and stick to playing our game.”

One obstacle they will have to overcome is the University of Pennsylvania, who eliminated them last year. This year, the Broncos defeated them 5-2 and 4-3, but the playoffs are always more intense.

“We lost to UPenn last year, and they always play tough,” said Voit. “We just have to play our best and give 100 percent and we should be fine.”

If the team gives 100 percent this weekend, they will win the championship. It’s as simple as that. But at the rate that they have been winning, even 50 percent should suffice.

She performs once she’s in it. Anna Kournikova has never won. That’s right, never. But we know more about her personal life than we do our own. We can’t find Osama Bin Laden, but we know what Kournikova had for lunch. The last article written about her was based on the new tattoo she got. On the other hand, for Serena Williams, her personal life than we do our own. We can’t find Osama Bin Laden, but we know what Kournikova had for lunch. The last article written about her was based on the new tattoo she got. On the other hand, for Serena Williams, her personal life is more important than her accomplishments falling on blind eyes and deaf ears.
