to prove that untrue by including the American flag in every picture.

The main message Schulke wanted to convey through his presentation was that people “should get involved in the world through politics or media because we have the power to do it.” Schulke’s pictures had a major impact on the audience at the student center along with the impact they once had on the world. Pictures were his way of contributing to society; additionally he feels that young adults in today’s society should find some way to help end the impending Iraqi war before it starts, said Schulke.

“Start a war to keep a war from happening?” questioned Schulke. “Iraq will destroy us if we don’t do something about it.”
