Broncs’ Bits

Scores/Records
(*denotes conference game)

Men’s Basketball
(12-7, 8-2 MAAC)
1/27
Rider 75 Manhattan 46*
1/29
Rider 67 Siena 47*

Women’s Basketball
(6-13, 4-6 MAAC)
1/27
Rider 49 Manhattan 48*
1/29
Rider 72 Iona 71*

Wrestling (9-5, 4-1 CAA)
1/29
Rider 25 Pittsburgh 22

Men’s Swimming (5-8)
1/29
Rider 160 Iona 82

Women’s Swimming (5-10)
1/29
Rider 150 Iona 91

...And More Sports

The indoor track and field team competed at the Princeton Invitational on Valentine’s Day and sophomore Owodunni won the 500m and sophomore Danny Esh won the shotput for the men.

‘ESPN’ from page 12

This is a characteristic that is rare among NCAA athletics.

The Peacocks struggled earlier in the season, starting off with a 1-6 conference record. The team flies high into Alumni Gym carrying a three game winning streak that includes convincing victories over Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference (MAAC) opponents Siena, Loyola and Marist.

The Broncs (11-7, 8-2 MAAC) cannot take the hard-nosed Peacocks lightly, especially since they boast one of the nation’s top scoring leaders, junior Keydren Clark, who has torched the Broncs over the last couple of years. Before Rider’s 95-86 victory at Saint Peter’s on Jan. 3, the Peacocks were riding a five game winning streak against the Broncs, including two heated playoff victories over the past two seasons. The Peacocks also return two seniors, Ron Yates and Terrance Watkins, all known to cause problems for Rider.

My message to the student body is to go to the game, wear cranberry and be loud. Don’t be afraid to stand up and join in the chants. Don’t be worried about how you will look with face paint. Don’t restrain from storming the court after a Rider victory. The fans are what makes college basketball so intense and interesting. If you don’t believe me, turn on the Georgia Tech-Duke game at 1 p.m. before you head out to the Rider game. If you still have your voice at the end of the game, you weren’t loud enough.

‘Magic’ from page 12

...days after a comeback 49-48 win at Manhattan. Unfortunately, the momentum of the Broncs may have been halted because they do not have a game until tomorrow. Hower and Catalanotto do not believe that the week off will be a problem at all.

“We have been practicing hard and we will bring it to the next two games,” said Catalanotto.

“In odd to have so many days off, but we have had such a tough schedule that our bodies needed a rest,” Hower said.

The success of Rider can be attributed to the new coaching staff led by Harrison. The Broncs started out slow, but Hower says that everything is coming together at this point of the season.

“We are on a high and we are on a roll,” she said. “We are clicking now with our new coaching staff.”

Rider has eight games remaining, including a televised match-up with Niagara on Sunday, Feb. 13 at Alumni Gym before the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference Tournament in Buffalo on Thursday, March 3. The events on the court over the past week gave the players the right to feel anything could happen.

“We are dangerous,” said Catalanotto. “People might take us lightly, especially since they boast one of the nation’s top scoring leaders, junior Keydren Clark, who has torched the Broncs over the last couple of years. Before Rider’s 95-86 victory at Saint Peter’s on Jan. 3, the Peacocks were riding a five game winning streak against the Broncs, including two heated playoff victories over the past two seasons. The Peacocks also return two seniors, Ron Yates and Terrance Watkins, all known to cause problems for Rider.

“My message to the student body is to go to the game, wear cranberry and be loud. Don’t be afraid to stand up and join in the chants. Don’t be worried about how you will look with face paint. Don’t restrain from storming the court after a Rider victory. The fans are what makes college basketball so intense and interesting. If you don’t believe me, turn on the Georgia Tech-Duke game at 1 p.m. before you head out to the Rider game. If you still have your voice at the end of the game, you weren’t loud enough.”

Valentine’s Day Specials

Available at the Cranberry Cafe and The C Store
(Febuary 9 - 14 2005)

- The Heart Maker or Breaker
  1 pt. Ice Cream
  Chocolate Fudge Brownies
  One Liter Bottle Beverage
  $13.99

- Lights Off Special
  Chocolate Covered Strawberries
  Small Whitman’s Sampler
  1/2 Dozen Roses
  Sparkling Cider
  $15.99

- Just a reminder, get all of your Valentine needs at the Cranberry Cafe and the C Store!

Get the scoop on SPORTS

Spring Break 2005
Travel with STS
America’s #1 Student Tour Operator to Jamaica, Cancun, Acapulco, Bahamas, and Florida. Now living on-campus reps. Call for group discounts.
Information/Reservations:
1-800-344-4849 or
www.ststravel.com

SPRING & SUMMER HELP NEEDED
Camp counselors, Childcare teachers, Lifeguards, Swim and Fitness Instructors needed at Princeton YMCA or West Windsor site. Great pay and flexible shifts (FT/PT) available 7 days a week.
Call 609-497-9622, 204.

Part Time Positions

Are you between the ages of 21-35?
Attractive, Reliable, Outgoing, Enthusiastic?
Do you enjoy going out at night?
Want to get paid while having fun?

US Concepts- a nationwide Event Marketing Agency is currently looking for people to help promote throughout NJ.

Get paid $25-$50 per hour!
Work as little or as MUCH as you want.

DON’T WAIT
Call now to set up an interview
Ask for Shannon (732) 773-5896.