A unique one at Rider because it serves as both a team and a club. The lacrosse and equestrian teams, ice hockey is not considered a varsity sport, but a club sport. It is funded by the student government and has both captains and officers.

And More Sports...

The women’s basketball team dropped another game, this time to Loyola, 62-60, making that their twelfth straight loss. Sophomores Katie Hall and Becky Hower scored 20 and 17 points, respectively. The losing streak is the longest since the 1989-90 season.

Seniors Melissa Michalov and Clifford Young of the swimming and diving teams have been named the Athletes of the Month for January. Michalov is ranked first in the MAAC in the 50 freestyle, 100 freestyle, 100 backstroke, and 200 breaststroke. Young is ranked first in the MAAC in the 100 and 200 breaststroke, and third in the individual medley.

“Captains do more on the ice,” explained Makovec. “The officers try to help out everybody involved, including the fans. Right now, we are trying to get a bus for the fans to the championship game.”

Hopes are high that the Broncs will come away with the championship this year. The players are gearing up to face some of their biggest rivals, such as UPenn and Siena.

Athletes of the Month

Derek Jenkins, a senior member of the wrestling team, has been named The Rider News Male Athlete of the Week. He recently achieved his 100th win, only the sixth Rider wrestler to do so. He is the top ranked heavyweight in the CAA and is ranked 9th in the nation.

Becky Hower, a sophomore member of the women’s basketball team, has been named The Rider News Female Athlete of the Week. Hower had 14 points, four assists, and 5 steals in a loss to Siena.

in second for so many years,” said sophomore Alexis Wood.

“I expect kids to produce right away and so far they have,” said Hodge.

Several students broke eight- to ten-year-old records here at Rider. Mavis Polk set a new record for the triple jump on Dec. 13 at the Fordham Christmas Classic. Mechea Medine, a freshman, broke the long jump record on Jan. 18 at the Lehigh Invitational. Also, on Feb. 1, Oluoshola Ijala set a record for the 35 pound weight throw at Lehigh.

“I’m proud of the team and everyone’s accomplishments,” said sophomore Anthony Reid. “We hope to achieve even more next season.”

Brandon Hicks was selected as Rider’s Athlete of the Month for December. Hicks has qualified for the Eastern Division Championship along with Polk and Ijala.

Hodge believes several members of the women’s team can make Easterns since they are not far away from qualifying and he hopes that they do qualify at their next meet.

Both teams and Hodge are determined to have their success continue and hope to break Manhattan’s winning streak at the Conference Championships.

in career, averaging 33 points and 15 rebounds a game at Cincinnati.

Lebron James, who some are making out to be the next Jesus Christ Himself, almost had to forfeit his eligibility for two jerseys, one of them being, Gale Sayers.

On a rainy day that turned the playing field into a slip n slide, Sayers ran like the wind, scoring an NFL record six touchdowns.

Even though we may think of these athletes as old school, they can still teach us a thing or two.
