Rider and pitched six innings, giving up five runs on eight hits and three walks. He left the game with a four run lead. Sophomore pitcher Justin Rozekowski earned the win despite allowing two runs in both the seventh and eighth to tie the game up. In the ninth Rehm came up to bat and singled. Then, McCrady singled, advancing Rehm to third. Leise hit a sacrifice fly to left field and Rehm scored to give the Broncos the victory. Freshman pitcher Will O’Connor entered the game in the ninth for the save.

“We figured out what we needed to do and got the win,” said Dyszel. “We hope we can carry [this momentum].”
